

The student should develop a supervised model for annotating with natural language keywords, images representing paintings. The student will create a corpus of natural language described paintings and will develop a supervised model for annotation of images based on the association of natural language keywords with the relevant image features. The image and NLP description corpus might be created by mining the web for description of paintings.